

150 Golf Web Site Information

The 150 Golf Club uses the servers of two website providers. The main club website, "150Golf.com", is administered through Homestead. The second website provider is 1and1 IONOS. They provide the data server that is used for the Roster, membership, sign up and volunteer sign up as well as a few other items. Below is detailed information for both providers and the email service we use.

Homestead

The address to access the Homestead site builder is:

The login information is:

We currently use two parts of the Homestead product. The site editor and the email.

We are currently using three email accounts. The password for all three is "150golfclub" They are the following:

We can have a total of five.

We do very little directly in this site. It is mostly used for account administration. The area that can be accessed to make changes is "Hosting – using webspace and data bases". All edits or changes in this area has to be made directly to the code. The site is mainly a combination of HTML, PHP and SQL code. We primarily use PHP files to do maintenance and updates to the data base. The following are the main files that are used.

The login and password is the same for all of these. It is as follows:
